ONE YEAR ONE CAUSE MENTAL HEALTH

DECODING
STRESS

SELF
CARE

ART
THERAPY

Dealing with stress, needs resilience to uncertainty, which comes from the deeper understanding about the stress, and that's what this session is all about!

Compassion makes us more humane, but ignorance of self care is not the right way, here in this session, our volunteers get to know the way to balance both

Art opens up mind and speaks where the words cant. In the art therapy session, the art of using art as a therapy was taught to the volunteers

VOICE of TQI

Kousalya Shanmugam's TQI journey:

“

There is no better way to define my entry into TQI. If it weren't for those seniors I met that night in my hostel, I wouldn't have got what I wanted...

I did everything from going to government schools to organizing the annual conclaves. By the second year, I was ready to take my first step into more significant responsibilities. I became the district representative for the Kanyakumari district. My first project was fieldwork for flood relief. The third year was even better. I was given the massive responsibility of Project Manager for the state government's women empowerment program that TQI had taken over.....

My vision as of now is to create an impact in society with my creativity as a tool. I want to inspire and motivate our younger volunteers. I want to help them face their fears, and help them come out stronger.
